Introduction

This second year publication by the State Library of a systems directory benefits from comments and suggestions from users of last year's book. The addresses of public library system members are included, and an entry is published for CLASS (California Library Authority for Systems and Services.) The Berkeley-Oakland Service System (BOSS) combined with the East Bay Cooperative Library System to form BALIS (Bay Area Library and Information System).

Included here are our 15 cooperative and three single jurisdiction library systems organized under the California Library Services Act (CLSA) with their associated library networks, and the regional reference centers or networks serving more than one system organized as demonstration projects under the federal Library Services and Construction Act (LSCA). Entries were developed from materials supplied by each system or project. An index of public library system members concludes the volume.

The directory is published in limited quantity and distributed to users according to quantities requested in advance of publication.

The Cooperative Information Network (CIN) was founded in Santa Clara County in 1972 with the aid of LSCA, Title III funds. Its goal was to develop a communications network among all types of libraries: public, school, academic and special, for the purpose of expanding and improving information services to residents, businesses and organizations. Such a network makes information from all libraries available to all other libraries (for the benefit of the involved constituency), regardless of jurisdictional boundaries, by offering access to the vast and varied holdings stored in all library units, large and small, throughout the county.

In the ensuing years, the adjacent counties of San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito have joined the Network so that today we serve a five-county region and have a membership of well over 300 libraries of all kinds, with access to holdings of 10 million+ volumes.

Since 1975, a Staff Development component has conducted experimentation and demonstration of the planning and implementation of staff development in cooperative systems and networks, as well as individual libraries. Materials and "learning packages" have been produced and collected, and these resources are shared statewide. In addition, the project director works with systems outside CIN for planning staff development and training trainers.

The California Library Authority for Systems and Services (CLASS) is a membership organization composed of all types of libraries. This public agency was formed by a Joint Exercise of Powers Agreement in June of 1976 to develop and implement a system for library program development and resource sharing.

Representatives from member libraries join together to design and obtain services which no single library can afford to provide for itself. These include, but are not limited to, those which take advantage of computer and communications technology. Members buy services from CLASS at reduced rates.

Program areas include: the Cooperative Library Network (CLN); the California Data Base for Monographs (CATALIST) and Serials (CULP); CLASS Online Reference Services (COLRS); Communications and Delivery; Storage of Library Materials; Conservation and Preservation; Continuing Education; and Technical Consulting.

Libraries using TWX machines may send ILL requests to NBC Interlibrary Loan Headquarters or to any of the County libraries. The decision is left to the requesting library. Requests sent to NBC ILL Headquarters will be relayed to the owning library in the daily System communication. The advantage in sending to NBC ILL Headquarters comes when there are requests being sent to more than one NBC member library. In this case, there is a saving in staff time and TWX communication costs to send all requests to one location. Libraries without TWX machines should send standard ILL forms direct to the owning library.

Response to out-of-system requests will be sent by mail from individual member libraries. NBC ILL Headquarters responds by TWX. If a TWX response is desired, it is best to send to NBC ILL Headquarters. ILL staff will relay the request to the owning library and relay the response back to the out-of-system library.

ILR may be sent to either one of the reference centers. (Solano or Sonoma). If however, the questions involves a local area, each county library has a TWX and questions should be referred to the county library involved.

Requests are handled equally on date received basis with in-system requests.

All System activities are funded by a combination of LSCA, CLSA and membership fees.

Inter-type Library Network

System and Network are at the same center.

Out-of-system ILL requests for the non-public libraries should be directed to the non-public library.

ILL requests should be directed either to the library that holds the title, or routed through the Information Centers by TWX if the owning library is clearly designated with each request. The System does not maintain a union catalog and relies totally on the California Union Catalog.

ILL requests may be sent by TWX only for Butte County Library, Eureka-Humboldt Library, Lassen County Library and Shasta County Library. Use an ALA interlibrary loan form for all others except Chico State. CSU, Chico has a telefax, (916) 895-6824 or an ATSS line, dial 459-6824.

Response to out-of-system ILL requests will be by mail from non-TWX libraries and by TWX for requests designated Butte County Library, Eureka-Humboldt Library, Lassen County Library or Shasta County Library. The information centers do not have staff to TWX replies and limit out-of-system activities to initial dissemination of ILL requests arriving via TWX.

ILR referrals should be sent to individual libraries if the requestor believes that the information is readily available from a particular library. If it is a general request send the ILR to an information center.

Priorities are: Rush requests are to be handled first, all others in order of receipt.

ILR staff are funded by CLSA in 1978-79. ILL and operating expenses are funded by CLSA and LSCA in 1978-79.

Inter-type Library Network

The System is a Network. System has staff at Butte College to handle film requests and audio-cassette programs.

Out-of-system ILL requests for the non-public libraries should be directed to each individual library.

NSCLS staff handles both System and Network requests. System has staff at Butte Information Center, Shasta Information Center, Butte College Library, Willows Public Library and NSCLS Office in Willows. Requests for funding for a part-time reference librarian at Eureka Information Center are pending, and a half-time library assistant has been funded for that Center.

ILR Headquarters - Reference Network (SBARN)
ILL Headquarters - None (contact individual libraries)

ILR should usually be sent to Reference Network Headquarters. However, each individual library has specialized resources that are used by patrons throughout the state (patent, genealogy) and these libraries may be contacted directly.

How requests are treated varies from library to library; most are handled on an equal basis with in-system requests.

ILL & ILR are funded by CLSA, LSCA, and in-kind contribution.

South Bay Cooperative Library System is not an inter-type library network.

South Bay Cooperative Library System is a member of CIN, (Cooperative Information Network), and serves as the "back-up" reference center for CIN libraries in Santa Clara County.
